

PRO GOLF MERGER (revised) Temperatures Are Rising [still]

Have the Globalists stolen America's pro golf tour? [still ?]

What is the new name of this Globalist push tour? [still ?]

If they drop their tax exempt corporate status, how will corporate and private sponsors justify write offs? [not clear, as well as the anti-trust ramifications of the new [division] of the PGATOUR which will be comprised of LIV, DP and regular PGATOUR ops]

Is it right to dishonor tour players who remained loyal to the old PGATOUR when LIV player's jumped ship? [still ?]

Who will own and operate the PGA Of America's Championship? [sounds like the PGA of America still has its championship]

How will the working pros, PGA America members, feel about losing their publicly mistaken association with the pro tour golfers? [depends on what the new "comercial" enterprise will be called, eg., World Pro Tour etc.]

How will the USGA Open exemptions process proceed? [still ?]

Will the USGA and R&A feel pushed if the global tour threatens in the future to hold out players if their demands are not met? [still a question and a key subject for anti-trust litigators]

What will the US Olympic committee do for golf team trials/ qualifications? [still a question and a key subject for anti-trust litigators. Shouldn't the USOC have fair and open Olympic trials like other Olympic sports?] If they get their list of names from the new world golf tour, could there be some bias which would stack the odds in favor of certain national team(s)?

How will the NCAA react when other international universities begin to steal their long awaited tour exemptions? [still ?]

How will the Tour sponsors hide their association with Saudi Arabia and human rights violations? [still ? Now the Tour has indicated that the new commercial enterprise will have its funding from PIF exclusively at first:

"exclusive investor in the new entity, alongside the Tour, LIV Golf and the DP World Tour."]

Will the Master's Tournament be pushed around by the new global tour organization and possibly forced to join?

[This may be still a question and possibly a subject for anti-trust litigators. Of course the Master's is an "Invitational Championship] and its owners can do whatever they want. Though who could deny that the decisions of the new world tour will impact the event and access to it by the players?]

Will the Canadian Open fall in line with the new global tour?

[still ?][While the PGATOUR removed the word "Open" from many of its titled championships, the RBC Canadian Open, still has "Open" in its title, though that may now be drawn into the legal discussions along with all of the Tour's other events which restrict the players open access to say "four spots" after other hoops such as "Pre-Qual" events.]

What will events look like; the old PGATOUR or LIV events?

[still ?]

What kind of prize money will be paid, ie. USD or another?
[still ?]

Will the avid American golf enthusiasts/spectators feel no shame? [still ?]. THIS IS THE BIG QUESTION in light of the catastrophic moves made by Anheuser Busch “BUD LIGHT” , TARGET, North Face etc.

Will another entity or organization give birth to a True North American Open Pro Golf Tour? WE ALL SHALL SEE AND MANY LIKE OURSELVES WILL BET ON IT

Do you think our little known, but time tested OGATOUR.org, would love to be a part of a true American open tour program? You bet! [still]

OPEN GOLF AMERICA still featured at [OGATOUR.org]
